

Synopsis: Down Nostalgia Road

Down Nostalgia Road

1967: Peace & Love. Flower Power. Feelin' groovy.

Mary Anne Wade is stuck in Middletown, Minnesota, where the only thing that ever changes is the seasons.

She longs to be in San Francisco, where it's happening. Protesting war, fostering good will. No rules, only freedom. When she learns of the Human Be-In at Golden Gate Park, she decides to run away.

She is quickly welcomed by several hippies to share their pad. But the Haight-Ashbury scene is not what she dreamed it would be. Her savings are quickly borrowed by roommates who only want to stay high. Flower-children prescribe to "Turn on, tune in, drop out".

She soon finds herself wandering the streets in search of food and missing home. A home she should never have left and a boy she should have given a chance.

Can she return?
